

CALL FOR PAPERS

FIRST CONFERENCE ON FINANCIAL STABILITY AND SUSTAINABILITY

The School of Economics and Finance of Universidad del Pacífico (Peru), the Center for Empirical Research in Business (CIEN) of the School of Business and Economics of Universidad Diego Portales (Chile) and the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), invite scholars to present and discuss their work with peers at the FIRST CONFERENCE ON FINANCIAL STABILITY AND SUSTAINABILITY, to be held on the 20th and 21st of January 2020 at Universidad del Pacífico in Lima, Peru.

The conference will bring together policymakers, market participants and researchers. It will provide a unique opportunity for academics working in theoretical and applied topics including financial stability, financial development and financial sustainability, to present high quality research and to build connections and future collaborations among experts working in banking and finance. For policymakers and others, it will provide a forum to be informed about the latest research in these areas, including policy relevant results and evaluations.

Papers presented at the conference will undergo a standard peer review process and, if accepted, will be included in a special issue of the Journal of Financial Stability.

CONFERENCE FORMAT

The conference will include two types of sessions:

- Academic Sessions that follow the format of an academic workshop to discuss 30 accepted papers.
- Policy Discussions that will include keynote addresses and panel discussions in which participants from industry, regulatory agencies, and academia can share their insights.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

- Kose John - Charles William Gerstenberg Professor of Banking and Finance, Stern School of Business, New York University.
- Kevin Cowan - Commissioner of the Financial Market Commission (CMF, Chile)

SUBMISSIONS

Both empirical and theoretical contributions are welcome. Submissions will be judged on their academic merit, where clearer contributions to policymaking will be favored. The topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Financial stability and financial development: Theory and causality.
- Financial and economic cycles: Findings and highlights.
- Financial supervision and regulation: Design and challenges.
- Financial crises: Prevention and resolution.
- Financial inclusion: Recent experience and perspectives.
- Macroprudential and related policies: Theory, empirical evidence and coordination.
- Macroprudential policy and financial development.
- Risks to financial stability in the global economy: Identification and management.

The deadline for submissions is October 31st, 2019 11:55 PM (UTC-5). Please send papers in English and in PDF format by email to cfss@up.edu.pe (Subject: Conference paper - First author's surname).

Notification of acceptance will be provided by November 15th, 2019. Conference papers are due on December 15th, 2019.

Questions about the call for papers or the conference can be directed to cfss@up.edu.pe (Subject: Conference query).
