

Harold Calderón

Harold Calderón Meza joined Capitalia Colombia in 2012 as Chief Investment Director following a successful career leading investment banking processes in the manufacturing industry. Previously, Harold spent over three years as entrepreneur leading transportation and entertainment businesses in Colombia. Mr. Calderón is also an angel investor (+10 investments in fintech, software, security, etc), and most recently, he has developed and operates a venture impact fund named Odiseo and in parallel leads the Angel Group from Capitalia Colombia, undertaking over 40 deals and making it one of the most relevant groups in Latam. Harold holds an Masters Degree in Finance from the University of Bradford and multiple diplomas associated to Venture Capital & Private Equity.