

Fidel Andueza

Fidel Andueza joined the Libra Group in 2014 as Head of Americas following a varied career in management consulting, investment banking, asset management and diversified business, most recently with the Spanish conglomerate, Acciona, where he was Head of International Business. His role at Acciona included strategic planning, partnerships, new markets and institutional relationships.

Previously, Fidel spent four years in Investment Banking at Lehman Brothers and 15 years at Citigroup based at their offices in New York, London, Madrid, São Paulo and Mexico City. Latterly he was Citigroup's Head of Investment Banking for both Brazil and Mexico.

Fidel holds an MEng in Aeronautics from Imperial College, London and a PMD from Harvard Business School.